PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Greenbacks 90½@91¼.

The Pacific Mail steamer Mohongo, from Panama and way ports, arrived to-day. The Saranac lay in the harbor of La Paz, prepared to protect American citizens even at the cost of bombarding the town. No belligerent act had been committed, however, and it was believed by her commander that no further trouble would ensue.

The steamer Cyprenes sails at 10 A. M. for Honolulu, Fiji and Australia. She will carry the English mails and a pretty full complement of passengers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—Belcher paid a dividend of $312,000 to-day. Con. Virginia will pay $524,000 Wednesday, and Crown Point $300,000 on Thursday.

A jury was obtained this evening in the case of Mrs. Mary E. Homer, indicted with Chas. H. Osborne for the murder of Wm. H. Homer, in May last. The trial was proceeded with and will be resumed to-morrow. Osborne was convicted of manslaughter on the second trial.

The Gr[illegible] Trotting Race.

The [illegible] unfavorable for the postponed trotting race between Occident, Fullerton and Chicago, which [illegible] to come off to-morrow at the Bay District track. Pool selling is light, but Occident is [illegible] the favorite. There is much speculation about the qualities of Chicago. Pool sales on the great $25,000 running race are small but brisk. Thad Stevens $95@90, Katie Pease $75@80, Joe Daniels $42@50, Field $42@50.

Tennessey, the jockey of Katie Pease, and Barbee, jockey of Joe Daniels, arrived last night. Also J. F. Gage, the owner of Katie Pease, and Col. Joe Daniels. In the pools Alpha, Henry, Hardwood, Hubbard and Hockhocking sell fourth in the field.

Officers of the Pacific Jockey Club who visited the race track this morning report it heavy, and say the trotting for to-morrow will probably be again postponed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—In pool selling on the great running race for next Saturday, Katie Pease is the first choice, but Thad Stevens is selling about even.

The weather is rainy. It is presumed the trotting race for to-morrow will be postponed, but pools are selling to-night. Occident is still the favorite.

Interior California.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—A colored man was shot at Los Nietos last night by a little boy who was playing with a pistol. The man died this morning.

Prof. Carr is in this city on a visit.

The grape crop in this valley is very heavy and will not be gathered for a month yet.

Chas. Miller, convicted of house breaking, was this morning sentenced to two years in the State Prison.

R. R. Haines, telegraph division superintendent, who went to survey a route for a telegraph line from this city to Panamint, has returned, and will make a favorable report.

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 10.—J. S. Miller, Most Worthy G. [illegible] of the Grand Lodge of [illegible] for the State of California, is in town making the annual tour of inspection of the subordinate lodges.

A [illegible] was held on Sunday evening, and Santa Barbara County Temperance Alliance formed, and delegates to the State Temperance Alliance elected.

The excitement over the Lompoc land sale still exists, large parties leaving for that place daily. A dispatch from there yesterday states that 1,572 [illegible] had been sold at an average price of over $70 per acre, the total sale up to 4 P. M. yesterday amounting to $[illegible].

NEVADA.

UNIONVILLE, Nov. 10.—Hill Beachy bought the Millionaire mine of Stanley & Co. yesterday. The price is [illegible] to be $[illegible]. Beachy has let a contract for a long tunnel to strike the ledge in a new direction. Several sales of mining ground in the vicinity of Eagle mine have been made [illegible].

ARIZONA.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 10.—The Yuma stage had a runaway down the mountain into Hill's station yesterday morning. There were three passengers aboard, two of whom were slightly injured. A Mrs. [illegible] was seriously injured.

The military telegraph line has been extended to Camp Verde, which office was opened for business to-day.

THE POPE EXPELLED BY THE FREE MASONS.—At the recent meeting of the Grand Lodge of Masons, Scottish Rite of the Orient, of Palermo, Italy, held in that city on the 27th of March, Mastai Ferretti, says the English Masonic News, was expelled from the Order for violating his vows and for perjury. Mastai Ferretti is no other person than Pius IX., Pope of Rome. The decree of the lodge at Palermo is published in the official paper of the Order of Free Masons at Cologne, Germany, and dated March 27. It is proved by the minutes of the Lodge in which Mastai Ferretti, in 1826, was initiated into the Order under the old Scottish rite. The decree [illegible] as follows: "A man named Mastai Ferretti, who received the baptism of Freemasonry and solemnly pledged his love and fellowship, and who afterward was crowned Pope and King, under the title of Pio Nono, has now cursed his former brethren and excommunicated all members of the Order of Free Masons. Therefore, said Mastai Ferretti is herewith, by decree of the Grand Lodge of the Orient, Palermo, expelled from the Order for perjury." The charges against Mastai Ferretti were first preferred in his Lodge at Palermo in 1865, and notification and copy thereof sent to Rome, with a request to attend the Lodge for the purpose of his vindication. To this the Pope made no reply, and for divers reasons the charges were not pressed until the Pope urged the clergy of Brazil to [illegible] measures against the Free Masons of that country. Then the charges were pressed, and the second and third notifications sent, and after a formal trial, a decree of expulsion was entered and ordered to be published. The decree bears the signature of Victor Emmanuel, King of Italy, Grand Master of the Orient of Italy.

A WASHOE GREETING.—Yesterday, as we were standing near the corner of C and Union streets, chatting with our old-time friend, Bob Howland, a queer, shaggy haired, wild-eyed chap, evidently just in from some of the eastward-lying desert regions of the State, hove in sight. Now, Bob himself is a regular roving, prospecting critter—a man who has delved and posted his "notices" in about half the camps on the Pacific coast. Bob, indeed, with much justice, may claim to have made Meadow Lake and Aurora and Como what they are. Our wild-eyed stranger had evidently seen Bob somewhere. He tacked back and forth in front of us a few times, scratching his head, hitching his baggy breeches up under his waist-belt, and jamming his scrap of dingy brown wool hat now on this side and now on that side of his head. At last he faced squarely about, and, coming up to Bob, said: "Wharabouts in hell have I seed you, stranger?" "I don't know," coolly and in his kindliest tone answered Bob; "what part of hell have you been in, my friend?" The wild-eyed man smiled a solemn smile, and said something about his camp and a pot of beans, on the headwaters of Bitter creek. Instantly he and Bob rushed into each other's arms, and for some moments each was diligently engaged in shedding tears of the largest size upon the shoulder of the other.—*Virginia (Nev.) During a secret session of a Chicago Board of Commissioners, one of the members was astonished to see an auger-tip projecting through the carpet, and, upon examination, found that a party of reporters had bored through from the cellar for the purpose of hearing what was said.

OREGON.

Ashland cast 65 votes at her first municipal election.

The Alden Fruit Drying Company, of Salem, has purchased 15,000 bushels of apples to start on.

The regular meeting of the Board of School Land Commissioners is postponed until Wednesday, the 25th inst.

The new Church, partially finished, at Turner's Station, Marion county, blew down in the storm of last Friday night.

Prof. Thos. Condon will deliver a course of twelve lectures before the University at Salem this coming winter, beginning on the 16th inst.

A little daughter of Noah Davidson, living near the State Fair grounds, fell off the porch of her father's house, a few nights ago and broke her arm.

The steamer Empire and schooners Parallel and Norway arrived at Coos Bay last week, and the steamer Eastport and schooners Bobolink and Letitia sailed from same port.

A well known Salem jeweler has invented a new water wheel to run his machinery used in his business. The wheel only requires a stream one-eighth of an inch in diameter.

A Good Templars' Lodge in Polk county was [illegible] by a [illegible], which shook the building so in which the body was sitting that the members left without the benediction.

The Yreka Journal says several teamsters from Oregon were in town last Saturday with [illegible] loads of flour, which they offered at $2 25 per 100 pounds, by the quantity. Rogue river flour, of course.

Mr. Put Smith, of Walla Walla, lately purchased in Umatilla a band of 1,500 head of sheep at an average of $2 per head. They will be brought down the river and placed on Sauvie's Island and fattened for the Portland market.

It is reported that the Rogue River Patrons of Husbandry propose the construction of the proposed wagon road from the head of Illinois Valley to Chetco harbor, on the coast, and that the surveyors are now marking out the line of the road.

The opening of three new coal mines, the renewed activity at the gold sand mines on the Coquille, and the increase in the production of lumber, will all contribute not a little towards the development of the steamboat business on Coos Bay.

The Statesman is informed that the Harvest Feast and ball of the Butteville Grange, advertised to come off at that place to-morrow evening, has been postponed until Friday, December 4th, owing to the recent death of a member of the Grange.

Charity Grange No. 76, Wallamet Forks, Lane county, has a new hall which will be completed and dedicated November 20th, exercises to commence at 10 o'clock A. M. The Grange is in a prosperous condition and will be very comfortably fixed when the new hall is ready for use.

The Dalles Mountaineer says: "A snake was killed one day last week on the farm of Mr. Horace Rice, on Fifteen-mile [illegible], in this county, that had its head encased in the shell of the egg from which it was hatched. The snake was about two years old. The question for naturalists to determine is, How did his snakeship grow and fatten?" We guess he hadn't had that shell on his head all that time—it is too thin.

The Postmaster at Pendleton has received a letter from Chico, Cal., dated October 25th, which says: "Did a band of horses leave your place for here? There has been a party murdered in the mountains by Indians, and they were from Umatilla county. Let us know and we can give you more information. One of the men was here three weeks ago, and went back to meet his train. A large party have gone to look for them." Mr. Benjamin Despain left Pendleton last August with a band of good horses. He intended to go through California in the neighborhood of Chico, and it is quite probable that he and his men and horses are those referred to in the letter.

On the 30th day of October the Indians of the Warm Springs Reservation brought in from the Modoc country the bones of their two comrades killed in Captain Jack's war. They were enclosed in rude coffins and buried. One being of the Wasco tribe, and the other a Warm Springs Indian, each was buried in the grave-yard of his own tribe. On Sunday, the 4th, before the remains were taken to their final resting-place, C. H. Walker held informal funeral services, and during his remarks acknowledged the debt of gratitude the whites owed to the faithful scouts furnished them by the two tribes which were represented by the two brave fellows which had fallen. The Indians who had assembled to bury their fallen friends appeared glad to see that their services and sacrifices were appreciated.

BRET HARTE ON CONFUCIUS.

CONFUCIUS AND THE CHINESE CLASSICS.—TRANSLATED BY KI-PO TAI.

[From Nast's Almanac for 1875.]

Chinese Cosmogony—In the beginning of the world, the world was Kiae Kiang, who died. His blood became rivers, his bones granite, his hair trees, &c., and, finally, the insects which infested his body became people.

Confucius—His Habits—In walking, the Master usually put one foot before the other; when he rested, it was generally on both legs.

If, in walking, he came upon a st[illegible], he would kick it out of his way; if it were too heavy, he would step over or around it.

Happening once to kick a large stone, he changed countenance.

The Superior Person wore his clothes in the ordinary manner, never putting his shoes upon his head, nor his cap upon his feet.

He always kept the skirts of his robe before and behind evenly adjusted. He permitted not the unseemly exposure of his under-garments of linen at any time.

When he met his visitors he rushed towards them with his arms opened like wings.

His Poetry—The following was written in the 65th year, on leaving Loo:

Oh, I fain would still look toward Loo;
But this Kwei hill cuts off my view—
With an axe will I hew
This thicket all through
That obscures the prospect of Loo.

In later years the following was composed by his disciple, Shun:

There was once a sage called Confucius, whose remarks were not few;
He said, "I will hew
This blasted hill through,"
While his friends remarked quietly, "Do."

His Ethics—The Master said, "One virtue goes a great way. In a jar of chow-chow, properly flavored with ginger, even a dead mouse is palatable."

On Wan asking him if it were proper to put dead mice in chow-chow, he replied, "It is the custom."

When he heard that Chang had beheaded an entire province, he remarked, "This is carrying things to an excess."

On being asked his opinion of impalement he replied that "the end did not justify the means."

Hop Kee asked him how to tell the superior man. The Master replied, "How, indeed!"

The Duke Siang asked him one day, "What constitutes the State?" Confucius replied, "The question is asinine."

His Jokes—One day, being handed a two-foot rule, Confucius opened it the wrong way, whereupon it broke. The Master said, quietly, that "it was a poor rule that wouldn't work both ways."

Observing that Wan Sing was much addicted to opium, the Master said, "Filial regard is always beautiful." "Why?" asked his disciples, "He loves his poppy," replied the Master, changing countenance.

"Is that Nankeen?" asked the great Mencius, as he carelessly examined the robe that enfolded the bosom of the fair Yau Sing. "No," replied the Master calmly, "that's Pekin."

The number of wagons with freight, on an average, from Corinne to Montana, is 200.

THE TERRITORIES.

Whitman county, W. T., elected a Republican ticket and gave Jacobs 58 majority.

Walla Walla was visited by heavy rains on Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

Mr. Jones, formerly of Pittsburg, Pa., has taken charge of the Seattle coal mines, as Superintendent.

A fellow filled with gin walked into the sea off an Olympia wharf the other night, and came near drowning before assistance reached him.

Seattle is quite jubilant over the election of Delegate to Congress, and especially over the 400, or more, majority of King county for him.

Petitions are in circulation asking the Postmaster-General to grant daily mail service on the Sound from Olympia to Port Townsend, and nearly every person in the country will sign them.

The new mail schedule has greatly inconvenienced the newspapers of Olympia, but Postmaster Burr has made arrangements to accommodate them very much, for which he deserves their hearty thanks.

A Tacoma correspondent says that pure indigo, pulverized and moistened into a common [illegible] and applied to the parts bitten by a snake, will relieve the patient in one hour, and remove all effects of the bite in twelve hours.

By direction of Governor Potts, all citizens of Montana Territory, living west of the Boulder range, are requested to return to the Arsenal at Virginia City all U. S. Government arms and equipments which were issued to them about two years ago.

The ship Germania sailed for San Francisco from Bellingham Bay, a few days ago, and a large proportion of her cargo consisted of grain, potatoes, shingles, hides, furs, etc. This is about the first large shipment of similar products from that region.

Articles of incorporation of the Snohomish County Agricultural Society were filed in the Secretary's office at Olympia, the 4th inst. The objects of the Company are for the promotion of agriculture, etc., and to hold annual exhibitions of the products of the soil.

Chun Sam offers in the Seattle Dispatch a reward of $50 for the "return of a young China woman named Lung Hein, aged 23 years, 5 feet high, good looking." What next? Seattle already had the honor of having naturalized the first Chinaman in the United States.

A large quantity of goods, destined for Montana, have been housed for the winter at Bismarck. The Helena merchants are indignant at the failure of the line to bring their goods through in time. Among other freight so housed is a fine steam fire engine, ordered for the Helena Fire Department.

The Seattle Gold and Silver Mining Co. filed articles of incorporation in the Secretary's office at Olympia, on the 7th inst. The objects are to erect and maintain quartz mills, and to engage in the business of quartz and placer mining. Capital stock, $600,000. Principal place of business, Seattle.

The assessment returns of the three districts of Madison county, Montana, this year, are as follows: First District, D. Kenealy, Assessor, $798,525 22; Second District, John G. Wiatt, Assessor, $440,930; Third District, W. B. Webb, Assessor, $310,442 50. Total assessments for the county footing up $1,549,807 72.

The Whatcom Mail of the 3d inst., says: "Mr. B. N. McDonough, storekeeper at the [illegible], was thrown from his horse on Monday last, breaking his collar-bone, dislocating his shoulder-blade, and otherwise, severely injuring him. After being thrown he was dragged several yards, hanging to the stirrup, the horse jumping and kicking frantically.

Prospecting investigations have been quietly going on for some time past in the Snohomish region. Several assays have been made, one of which is upward of $400 to the ton, silver, another, something less, but a per cent. of gold in it. A map is being made, a company formed and preparations for work going forward. Indications are favorable for valuable mines in that region.

A correspondent writing from Oysterville, gives the following as the official vote of Pacific county: Orange Jacobs, 202; B. L. Sharpstein, 45; Joint Councilman—J. G. Megler, 113; W. H. Lupton, 135; Joint Representative—A. K. Bush, 79; J. C. McKay, 104; Kurr, 66. Prosecuting Attorney—Bloomfield, 143; J. P. Judson, 84; J. M. Fletcher, 8; Sovey, 1. All of the Independent ticket for county officers are elected by a large majority.

Two Montana men claim to have discovered an inexhaustible ledge of pure white marble not far from Deer Lodge, and easy of access. It is harder than the average Italian marble, is very even grained and free from flint, looks like pure white wax, without streaks, and by rude process takes a fine polish. In all the tests to which it could be subjected, it demonstrates superior qualities for building and statuary marble, surpassing in all essentials the best marbles with which it was placed in comparison.

The Tribune says: "Fresh salmon are now very low priced in Tacoma, and can be got from the Indian or white fishermen for as nearly nothing as anywhere else in the world—'for a song,' or less. Splendid great fish, a yard long, weighing twelve to twenty pounds each, are hawked about the town, from house to house, and disposed of at a quarter apiece, two for a quarter, three for a quarter, any number to effect a sale. The water is just alive with the finest salmon at this season of the year, and if we only had close at hand a market like New York, fortunes could be made in a single season."

GENERAL HOWARD STILL LIABLE FOR THE CLAIMS AGAINST HIM.—Washington, Nov. 4.—From 1867 to 1870 General O. O. Howard invested over $300,000 in Government bonds, and used the interest received from such bonds in the payment of bona fide claims in order to make up the deficit in the public funds caused by the payment of fraudulent claims. Attorney-General Williams, to whom was submitted certain questions in regard to the responsibility of General Howard and Bullock for such use of public moneys, states that criminal prosecution against them is barred by the limitations imposed by the statutes, but that they still remain civilly liable, and suits may be begun against them to recover. Whatever money may be recovered should be turned into the treasury in the same manner as is recovered from delinquent officers in other cases.

DEFINITION OF THE REPUBLICAN POLICY IN THE NEXT CONGRESS.—Chicago, Nov. 5.—The Tribune's Washington special says some of the President's friends have already begun to plan the policy of the coming session of Congress, and have agreed that the Civil Rights Bill shall be passed, as the most important measure to secure the Southern States for the Republican party. After this they propose that a stringent Civil Service Bill shall be passed to secure the retention of the present Republican incumbents in office, in the event of future changes in the Administration. It is argued, however, that under any circumstances the Senate will remain Republican, and that Democratic legislation will therefore be impossible.

SEWARD'S "LITTLE BELL."—For a campaign so full of moral lessons, this has been strangely devoid of humor, and a stray gleam of fun is a delightful surprise, even when it turns an unjust laugh on a very estimable gentleman. In the district where Frederick W. Seward is running for the Assembly, and from which he ought to be elected, the perambulating bell which called on neglectful citizens to register was one of the biggest of the big, and of a voice calculated to distract a whole community. On the side of the cart appeared in huge letters: "This is not Seward's little bell!" And that was true enough. It really couldn't have been.—N. Y. Tribune.

It becomes our solemn duty to inform the Rochester man, and several hundred other paragraphing punsters, that if it is spelled Honore, it is pronounced Onnery.—Chicago Times.

THE PRESBYTERY AT CORVALLIS.

A large amount of business has been transacted, and as the session is drawing to a close, a selection of items which will be interesting to many of your readers will now be presented:

The session was opened on the 5th inst. with a sermon by the Rev. John Rea.

The Rev. Robert Robe was chosen to preside until the Moderator should appear.

AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY.

The Rev. P. C. Hetzler, of the American Bible Society, addressed the meeting in a stirring speech, presenting valuable statistics of the work of Bible distribution.

The Presbytery reaffirmed its testimony to the supreme value of the Word of God, and recommended the maintenance of local Associations to assist the agents of the Parent Society by gratuitous canvassing and pecuniary offerings.

Rev. George Ainslie, of Lapwai, Idaho, and Rev. J. G. Downing, of Corvallis, were enrolled as members of the Presbytery.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The Commissioner to the last General Assembly, (Rev. N. R. Stewart) gave an interesting sketch of the proceedings of that body, composed of representatives from all parts of the country. Home missions kindled an enthusiasm which resulted in subscriptions amounting to $40,000, on the spot, to pay off the debt of the Board.

Rev. George Ross, of Tualatin Plains, was examined, with a view to ordination, and received the unanimous approval of the Presbytery.

The Rev. John R. Thompson appeared on Friday afternoon and took his seat as Moderator.

THE GOSPEL IN GERMAN.

Interesting petitions from German settlements were presented to the Presbytery, numerously signed, and praying for the preaching of the gospel among them in their own tongue. The Presbytery [illegible] a cordial greeting, with the promise of early assistance.

COMMISSIONERS TO GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The Rev. John R. Thompson and Prof. R. K. Warren, Principals, and the Rev. John Rea and Truman P. Powers, Esq., alternates, were ch[illegible] commissioners to the next meeting of the General Assembly.

Rev. Messrs. Hetzler, Emery, Day and York were invited to the privileges of the floor.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Important papers were presented by various committees. One of these was the report of the Executive Committee, covering half a year, referring to an extensive correspondence on all the missionary work of the Presbytery.

DENOMINATIONAL COMITY.

The proposed arrangement between the Congregationalists and Pr[illegible], entitled denominational comity, was discussed and heartily approved. The design of the Presbyterian Board and the Congregational Home Missionary Society is to secure economy in the expenditure of funds collected to support the gospel in new settlements, and to avoid unseemly contests for the possession of mission fields. To this end a union of two or more weak churches [illegible] one pastor is [illegible], to continue until there be occasion for another church, when the union may be dissolved. The Presbytery having always held these views and acted accordingly, expressed cordial approbation of any plan which could confirm an agreement of this kind between the parties.

The following paper on

HOME MISSIONS

Was adopted:

Recognizing the importance and necessity of the Board of Home Missions, and realizing the privations of many devoted missionaries and their families; be it therefore Resolved, 1. That we have full confidence in the fidelity, ability and devotion of the Home Board.

2. That we believe the Board has fulfilled with great equity and fairness its duty as the dispenser of the liberality of the Church.

3. That fidelity to the cause of missions demands of our pastors, sessions of evangelists to put forth prayerful and energetic endeavors to arouse the people to greater efforts towards self sustentation, and enlarged contributions towards the funds of the Board, as the Lord may prosper them, that home evangelization be set forth in all its importance, carefully and often; and that it be urged on the conscience of Christians as a subject of earnest prayer.

The Executive Committee were charged with the duty of urging upon missionary congregations the necessity of more vigorous efforts in the direction of financial independence.

The subject of erecting the Presbytery into the Synod of the Columbia was indefinitely postponed.

The following paper on the subject of

TEMPERANCE

Was adopted:

The Presbyterian Church has always been the advocate of sound Temperance principles and [illegible] as well as of every other virtue; and this Presbytery now declares, as it has done [illegible], its adherence to these principles. It [illegible] pledged to the advocacy of all suitable [illegible] for the suppression of intemperance; [illegible] for the information of those who [illegible] reiterate it in the words of the last General Assembly:

Resolved, That in view of the prevalence of the terrible sin of intemperance, this assembly recommend the practice of Total Abstinence from the use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, and rejoicing in the recent progress made in abating the use, manufacture and sale of the same, exhorts all to persevere in [illegible] prayer and effort to diminish and [illegible] this crying evil.

NATIVE PREACHERS.

It was proposed that native assistants be trained for missionary work among the Nez Perces and Spokane Indians. There are three large Churches among these tribes, and interesting accounts of their condition were laid before the Presbytery.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Two new members were added to this committee, and it is now constituted as follows: Rev. A. L. Lindsley, D.D., Chairman, Gen. E. B. Babbitt, Rev. E. R. Geary, D.D., Rev. J. R. Thompson, Hon. S. M. Reed, Rev. John Rea.

UNEMPLOYED MINISTERS.

On the subject of Unemployed Ministers, the following minute was adopted:

Intimations of spiritual destitution existing within our bounds call for the services of all our ministers; and we recommend that ministers without charge take these openings into prayerful consideration, promising the support of the Presbytery in all legitimate efforts to reach the destitute and supply them with the Bread of Life.

THE NEW HYMNAL

Was recommended to all our congregations with the hope that all would ultimately adopt it.

NECROLOGICAL.

The death of the Rev. Henry H. Spalding brings under review a long and checkered life. The present occasion does not justify an extended notice, and we have not within reach the sources of information from which to derive it.

His early efforts for the conversion of the Indians, in conjunction with Dr. Marcus Whitman and his associates, and his subsequent sufferings, are well known. When the fruits of many years of labor seemed destroyed by savage atrocity, Mr. Spalding retained his hope in the final triumph of the Gospel among them, and watched for opportunities to resume his work.

To return to the Nez Perces became an insatiable passion. With great pertinacity he prosecuted it until God gave him the desire of his he[illegible]. Among them, and the Spokanes he passed the last few years of his life, abounding in efforts to promote their highest good.

Laborious and persevering when many of his age are disposed to seek rest, he fell with his armor on and sleeps among his people. His rest is glorious and his reward is sure. He died August 3d, 1874, in the 73d year of his age. Thus the "starred" names on our roll inc[illegible] It is admonished [illegible] us heed it.

We tender our warmest sympathies to the widow and children of Father Spalding, not forgetting the numerous bands among the Nez Perces and Spokanes who also call him Father.

MONUMENT TO DR. WHITMAN.

Action was taken concerning the erection of a monument over the remains of the eminent patriot and philanthropist Marcus Whitman, which will be laid before the public in due time.

Omitting numerous items we close this report with

The ordination of Mr. George Ross, took place on Sunday evening, according to the impressive forms of the Church. Various religious services were held and the Presbytery adjourned with very pleasing impressions of the people of Corvallis, and especially of those whose bountiful hospitality they had enjoyed.

A vote of thanks was heartily given to their entertainers, to the newspaper press, and to the lines of travel for favors.

JOHN REA, Clerk.

The following is the roll of ministers and churches belonging to the Presbytery of Oregon:

Rev. T. J. Weekes, San Juan Archipelago.
Rev. John Rea, Port Townsend.
Rev. A. R. Nicholson, S[illegible] and Tacoma.
Rev. George L. Whitworth, White river.

Rev. A. H. Bates, Empire City.
Rev. M. A. Williams, Jacksonville.
Rev. W. J. Monteith, Lewiston, Idaho.
Rev. Geo. Ainsley, Lapwai (Nez Perces).
Rev. L. D. N. Martin, Kawia (Nez Perces).
Rev. H. T. Cowley, Spokane Falls.

Other ministers without any special charges are Rev. R. Cheadle, J. Reasoner, J. C. Hanne, A. Simpson, G. K. Sloand and D. K. Nesbitt. These gentlemen give proof of their ministry in the way of preaching as they have opportunity.

A PROMISING LAD.—The Rochester Democrat tells a good little-boy story, which might do duty in many other cities of larger dimensions than pretty Rochester. The time was 5 o'clock. A swing-bridge had just opened, and it was a miserable wet day. A charitable lady stood waiting for the closing of the bridge; and the good little boy, who was not over 12 years of age, moved along, miserably clad, through the mud. "Ain't that rather cold work, my little man?" said the lady. Did he burst into tears and say that his father was a drunkard and mother was dead? Did he turn up his eyes to Heaven and long to be with the angels in the far-off? No; he didn't do anything of the kind. He merely turned his head and remarked: "Go to—!" That boy may live to be a president of a railroad company.

LOOKING FOR CHARLEY ROSS.—The St. Paul Pioneer says: One of our merchants stepped out of his place of business the other day in Brainerd into the warehouse to get a customer a piece of pork. When he dodged back into the store with his meat he discovered the customer occupying an unusually awkward relation to his money drawer, and yelled out, "I say, what are you doing around there?" The cuss kind of dug out from behind that counter, and, as he assumed the proper location for a customer to occupy in another man's store—on the south side of the counter—he stammered out, "Oh, I was just—ahem!—I went around there—ahem!—was just—I thought—I was just looking around there to—ahem!—I thought maybe little Charley Ross was in under the counter, like!"

A SPEAKING JACKASS.—The Baltimore Sun says: Among the many curiosities brought to Frederick during the continuance of the fair, none have attracted greater attention and caused more amusement than a jackass (entered by a gentleman named Groves, from Shepherdstown, W. Va.), which speaks. One gentleman asked him to take a drink. He answered in good English, "Why not?" The animal does not differ materially from his species, except that his ears are not quite so long. His owner cannot account for the faculty of speech developed in the animal, but considers it singular that it should be able to articulate only the words "Why not?" Mr. Groves was offered $500 for the curiosity, but refused to accept.

ANOTHER REMINISCENCE.—An Indiana paper says: "We have seen this somewhere before:

WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 10, 1874.

THE FARMER AND THE MERCHANT.

PORTLAND, Nov. 10, 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In your paper of yesterday, you take strong ground in favor of the Grangers and against the merchants. I don't think that is right. I don't think the Grangers can succeed in their [illegible] to become shippers and merchants and farmers at the same time; and I don't think you or any other editor should advise them to try it. They will fail, and their failure will be bad for the whole country, and for themselves too. It seems to me you let your sympathy for the farmers carry you too far.

MERCHANT.

On receiving the above note from a merchant of this city whom we esteem very highly, we thought certainly there [illegible] have been in our article referred to, some ambiguity which had given rise to a misconception of its entire scope and spirit, for we were sure no such sentiments were expressed, and no such advice given, as the writer assumes. But upon re-examining the article to which he takes exception, we see nothing in it that requires modification or explanation; nothing that will bear the construction the writer of this letter gives it. We took no "strong ground," nor any ground at all against the merchants; nor did we advise the Grangers to become both merchants and farmers. And if our mercantile friend did not look at the subject through glasses so colored by prejudice as to turn white, black and red into green, he would [illegible] ground in our remarks for his complaint. We said if the Grangers choose to engage in the buying and selling of merchandise, no matter whether it be farm products, hardware or silk fabrics—in short, to turn merchants,—nobody has any right to say them nay. They are as well entitled to choose their own occupation, and to change it at their pleasure, as any other class of citizens. And if any merchant thinks he can make it pay he has the right to extend his competing efforts beyond the domain of mercantile pursuits, and raise wheat, potatoes and wool with all his might and main, even to the extent of bringing down the price of these commodities, so that the farmer will have to quit the business.

As to whether the farmers will succeed as merchants, that is their own matter. People are likely to succeed best in those branches of business with which they are most familiar, and to find themselves working to disadvantage when they try to carry on several different occupations alongside of competitors who are devoted to one branch of business alone. But that is entirely foreign to the question. The probabilities of success or failure have no bearing on the question of right. It might be a kindly, and therefore a proper thing to warn the Grangers against attempting too much through their Grange organizations; but that would be a very different matter from advising others to harass them with unnecessary demands, for daring to exercise the same right that other citizens exercise of choosing and changing their business at will. If we saw any evidence tending to show that the Grange proposed as organizations to engage in mercantile pursuits, except so far as may be connected directly with their farming operations, we should not hesitate, while conceding and defending their right to do so, to express our doubts as to the safety of their course. We believe in the Spanish proverb: "Fritter-man mind your fritters;" but there are cases everybody has seen them—in which the rule is more honored in the breach than in the observance, because the fritters amount to nothing without a little outside work.

WHEAT STATISTICS.

The October report of the Department of Agriculture, says "our October returns indicate a yield of wheat both larger in quantity and better in quality than last year, nearly, if not quite equaling the [illegible] crop of the census year, which [illegible] 287,745,626 bushels." There has been a large increase in all the New England States, excepting Rhode Island, which does not raise wheat, and Connecticut, whose crop is about the same as last year. But the total wheat crop of the New England States is scarcely sufficient as a whole to affect the general result appreciably, never going beyond one million bushels. The Middle States, where very little is done in wheat, have increased their aggregate yield from 1 to 16 [illegible] Maryland [illegible] per cent., and Virginia 8. The other Southern Atlantic and Gulf States increase their [illegible], excepting Florida and Louisiana, which do nothing in wheat. Georgia advances 21 per cent., and Alabama 22. The latter [illegible] shows 29 per cent. improvement [illegible]. Arkansas raises her product 50 per cent., Tennessee 20, West Virginia 23. Kentucky declines 6 per cent. The aggregate of the four States last named has been about one third [illegible] in 1874 than in 1873. In the States north of the Ohio, the ravages of insects in some sections, and unfavorable weather in others, have told heavily on the result. Wisconsin falls 35 per cent. below her yield of last year, which alone is stated as more than sufficient to counterbalance the gains in other States in that section of the Union. It is estimated the yield of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, will fall below the aggregate of the same States last year, by about one million bushels. The aggregate yield of the States lying along the west banks of the Mississippi and Missouri rivers is in the neighborhood of two million bushels less than last year, notwithstanding Missouri increases her crop 22 per cent. California is reported at 10 per cent. increase and Oregon at 21 per cent. The increased yield of the Pacific Coast is more than equal to the decrease in the Northwest.

WOOL GROWING IN OREGON.

We are in receipt of some figures, partly actual statistics and partly estimates, by an intelligent farmer, in which it is shown that the wool product of this State is increasing at the rate of about 30 per cent. per annum in quantity, with a very decided improvement in quality. It is calculated that the rate of increase and improvement are constantly accelerating. The capacity of the State for wool-growing is almost unlimited. Immense districts that can never be profitably cultivated, are admirably adapted to this branch of productive industry. The natural grasses of all the country east of the Cascade mountains are well suited to sheep-raising, and practically inexhaustible, while in the moist region lying west of that range, all the domestic grasses flourish as well, perhaps, as in any place in the world. It is safe to assume that before a great many years Oregon will take rank as one of the first of the wool-growing States in the Union; and it is needless to add, that this industry is one of the most profitable in this or any other country.

Henry Ward Beecher has not been too much engrossed with personal matters to perceive the true situation of political affairs, and talk sensibly about it. Just before the late elections he said, in the Christian Union:

According to present appearances the Republican party is going into the fall campaign with a stronger reliance upon Southern outrages than upon any of the principles which might just now be appropriately enunciated, and for which we rightly look to the party claiming to possess the sentiments from which great principles spring. The speeches of party leaders, the utterances of party organs, the "outrage" planks of platforms, and the result of the Convention of Southern office-holders all seem to justify us in our conclusion. The results are likely to be humiliating; Republican majorities will be reduced, Republican Senators and Representatives will be lost, but there will be afforded by the experience a valuable lesson which we believe the party needs, and will be intelligent enough to learn—the lesson that unless both principles and men are presented at every election, the party failing to provide them forfeits the respect of its adherents.

Vice President Wilson is in bad odor about Washington just now. Just before the November elections he ventured to admit that the Republicans would lose several Congressional districts in Massachusetts. The politicians didn't like this. A day or two afterwards (Oct. 27) Mr. Wilson called at the White House, and the President sent him word that he was too busy to see him. Some newspaper correspondents next went nosing round the Executive Mansion and found out that Mr. Grant saw on that day numerous other persons of much less consequence than the Vice President. And the ill-natured churls say that two and two make four. The Natick cobbler had better keep that truthful tongue quiet. What with his denunciations of a third term and his political prognostications, he is talking altogether too plainly in his old age.

The farmers of Minnesota are turning their attention to the cultivation of flax. The Stearns county correspondent of the Agricultural Bureau at Washington predicts that "flax seed will undoubtedly supersede the wheat crop, except for home consumption." The average yield per acre is about the same as that of wheat, and is produced at about the same cost, while the market price is double that of wheat. Another advantage claimed for the culture of flax is, that the ground will produce one-third more wheat for having been sown in flax the previous year. The crop of Stearns county this year is $65,000 bushels, against 4,000 last year.

The Washington Ring was anxious to get Gus. Zirruth, a troublesome witness in the Safe Burglary case out of the way. So they employed one Curry to charter a tug, take Zirruth down the harbor and put him on board a Liverpool steamer. Before parting, Curry gave Zirruth $1,000, and then returned to Jersey City on the tug. But there was another tug on the other side of the steamer. Into that the troublesome witness leaped just in time to return to the city and telegraph to Washington. We venture the opinion that Jay Gould himself never made $1,000 more neatly and quickly.

REV. DR. STONE'S HUMOR.—At the commencement exercises of the Medical College of the Pacific, held in Calvary Church, San Francisco, on the evening of the 5th inst., the Address was delivered by Rev. A. L. Stone, the well-known clergyman. The S. F. Chronicle says:

He closed his remarks with the following announcement, which was greeted with laughter and applause: "There are parties on the other side of the city waiting for me to perform an office of my profession which may not be remotely connected with yours."

Paul Boynton left New York on a Liverpool steamer, two or three weeks ago, intending to test the merits of his life-saving apparatus by being thrown overboard 300 miles from land. We grieve to learn that Paul continued his journey to Liverpool, where he now is. His latest scheme is to wade the Irish channel in his apparatus. The Republic cruelly suggests that he carry Sergeant Bates on his back. A good idea, if Boynton can be [illegible] to understand that his most patriotic duty is to drop Bates midway.

It is a noticeable fact, we believe, that Senator Conkling was significantly silent in the New York campaign: he made but one speech. The party leaders threw all the burden of the fight on Gen. Dix. It is freely charged in the newspapers of that State that the grand old veteran was subjected to the meanest humiliations that could be imposed upon him. After deserting him, the Custom House Ring traded him off in every district for members of the Legislature.

James G. Blaine was educated at Little Washington, Pennsylvania, and not at Witherspoon Institute. He was always known (in his college days) as "Nosy Blaine," a nickname derived from the extraordinary size of his nose. He was remarkable for nothing save his aptness in mathematical studies. In these, says a former schoolmate, he was "excessively quick."

"Bridges for State Senator! Great God! What is Kansas is coming to?" That is the distressful cry of the Brown county (Kansas) Advocate.

Rev. Wm. Taylor, the great street preacher of early days in San Francisco, is now in the missionary field, in India.

"COMET WINE."—It is a favorite theory among the wine-growers of the Rhine that the wine produced during the year of a comet visitation is perceptibly enhanced in value and improved in quality. The wine of such years is called "Comet" wine, the years are "Comet" years, and in all ways the Celestial visitor is honored in having his title applied and his marvelous influence recorded and recited. Now, this is a "Comet" year, and naturally the wine-growers of France and Germany have been on the tip-toe of expectation. And, really, if we are to believe the statements made, their hopes have not been baseless. Private letters received in New York from the Rhine vineyards within the past few days state that the grape harvest of the present year will exceed in value and quality all crops of recent years. It is believed that the "Comet" wine of 1874 will possess a value in the market, and among connoisseurs, which will cause it to be quoted years hence as an exceptional and peculiarly [illegible] brand.—The Republic.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 11, 1874.

CITY.

CALIFORNIA ARRIVED.—About 12 o'clock [illegible] Monday night the steamer [illegible] here from Sitka and way [illegible]. The steamer was over-due several days [illegible] and in consequence of the [illegible] at sea, some slight anxiety [illegible] in regard to the safety of the [illegible]. It turns out that the occasion of the steamer's detention was the extremely rough weather she experienced. Since the California has been running on the northern coast, she has never before encountered such a rough gale as was experienced on the passage to this port. While on the way from Nanaimo to the mouth of the Columbia, a terrible storm was encountered which lasted several days and nights with unabated severity. The gale commenced on Friday and continued until Sunday. Wind and waves contended for the mastery, and at times it seemed as if the laboring vessel would not weather the storm. At times the sea ran so high as to sweep the deck. It became necessary to fasten down securely the forward hatches, and keep the steerage passengers below for two days. Large quantities of water found its way into the hold through the hatches, and had to be pumped out at [illegible] erable labor. For a long time the prospects of weathering the gale seemed very gloomy, but the gallant steamer rode through the storm in safety, and arrived off the bar soon [illegible] the storm subsided. Fortunately, the [illegible] was loaded with coal and oil which could not be damaged by the water. After the [illegible] abated, the steamer entered the river, and reached her destination without further danger or detention. Before sailing, however, the California will doubtless undergo some [illegible].

GOLD DUST.—We were shown [illegible] by a gentleman who has just arrived from the [illegible] about 100 ounces of gold [illegible] has been taken from the Swank [illegible] within the past few [illegible] [illegible] at present engaged in working [illegible] and most of them are making from [illegible] per day. Thus far the op[illegible] confined to the [illegible] and Swank rivers, but a number of [illegible] have begun working along the foot hills, and the yield of gold is reported to be very [illegible]. Our informant states that he [illegible] the mines no humbug; there are [illegible] ent good diggings in that region, but [illegible] labor and some capital will be [illegible] to develop them. Mining operations [illegible] ing the winter [illegible] will of [illegible] be suspended; but as the winters as a general thing are not very rigorous, work can be resumed early in the spring, and continued until late in the fall. Within the last [illegible] months, about $6,000 has been taken from these mines; and our informant gives it [illegible] opinion that a large amount of the precious metal will be taken out next season. Provisions can be obtained in abundance and living is quite cheap. A number of persons who have located claims propose to push operations next year. The gold obtained from these mines is generally dust, though a number of good sized nuggets have been obtained from the diggings along the foothills. It is [illegible] and will average from $15 to $16 per ounce.

GOING TO COOS BAY.—It will be a [illegible] gratification for the theater-loving portion of the community who reside at Coos Bay and vicinity, to learn that a theatrical company contemplate visiting that part of the [illegible] soon. Such is indeed the case. This [illegible] Mr. R. Fulford, accompanied by a good troupe, will leave Portland for Coos Bay. The company is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Fulford, Miss Minnie Pixley, Miss Taylor, Mr. [illegible] Ward, Mr. Sam. Dennis, and [illegible] persons. On the way out, the company propose to give performances at the several [illegible] through which [illegible] Albany, Co[illegible] Eugene City and R[illegible]burg. After [illegible] at the last named place, the troupe will [illegible] the line of the railroad, and [illegible] the mountains, pass down to the coast. Mr. F[illegible] intention is to [illegible] several [illegible] at Coos Bay, performing at Empire City, [illegible] and other point along the coast, and returning to Portland [illegible] the winter [illegible]. The company which Mr. Fulford takes with him is an excellent one, and the public can be assured that the performances given by it will be worthy of patronage. With the numerous friends of the troupe, we wish them all manner of suc[illegible]

THE ENTERTAINMENT.—Our amusement loving public will not overlook the fact that an entertainment is to be given this evening at Oro Fino Theater. This entertainment given under the auspices of the ladies [illegible] with the First Unitarian Church, is intended [illegible] partake of a [illegible] character. For some days past, the [illegible] have been making active prep[illegible] and will be able to present an attractive [illegible] this evening. "Mrs. Jarley's Celebrated W[illegible]" and the amusing [illegible] "Babes in the Wood," will be [illegible]. In addition to the above, there will be inter[illegible] tainment, consisting of recitations, vocal [illegible] instrumental music. One of the most attractive features of the evening, will be several vocal selections rendered by the [illegible] Quartette Club. Prof. H. C. Kay and the members of his orchestra have also volunteered for the occasion. A [illegible] may be confidently anticipated. [illegible] seats can be procured by calling on Mr. Geo. L. DePrans this forenoon at the store of G. A. Steel & Co.

THE NEW SEASON.—[illegible] well [illegible] ors who came to Portland under [illegible] to Mrs. Phelps arrived [illegible] er. Vigorous preparations are [illegible] by the Managers for the [illegible] new theatrical season to [illegible] ing of the [illegible] the [illegible] of the new troupe [illegible] cerned—and the well known [illegible] terprise of the management [illegible] in providing a [illegible] stock company [illegible] lar attraction, is just what the public of Portland want, and they will not [illegible] any medium or [illegible] that is necessary to insure a successful [illegible] worthy of support.

VESSELS OFF THE BAR.—Twelve vessels were seen [illegible] off the bar as the Califo[illegible] passed in. Two of the vessels were recognized by the steamer—the Jane A. Falkinburg, from the Sandwich Islands, and the Hera, from San Francisco. The names of the others were unknown, but the most of them are supposed to be foreign vessels, belonging to the [illegible] will be in the river in a few days.

POSTPONED.—Writing under date of B[illegible]ville, November 10th, Mr. W. H. P[illegible] says: "Owing to the death of Sister Pricilla Mathieu, fourth daughter of Hon. F. X. Mathieu, which occurred on Saturday the 7th inst., the Harvest Feast announced to take place at Grange Hall, Butteville, on the 11th inst., has been postponed until Friday, December 4th, by order of the Grange."

STEERING APPARATUS.—The large barge built by the Astoria Barge Company, and launched a few days since, was towed up the river, and now lies at the foot of Washington street. Workmen are engaged in attaching rudders to the new craft. She will be ready to carry a load of grain down the river in a few days.

Don't fail to attend the performance in Museum Hall to-night. Last evening the performers received great applause. New programme to-night.

The great Frenchman, Altaroche, [illegible] ties of irony and sarcasm in all his writings, but JOHN O'NIEL & CO. make specialties of selling the finest clothing, underwear, cravats, ties and hats at unparalleled low prices. [illegible] theirs are of the best, so get yourself dressed and be at rest. This is not irony or sarcasm, but stubborn fact, as [illegible] who goes to their store. Naked truth is good, but people can't go about in that way and must have clothing, and the supplies received by this firm are just what are wanted for the season.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Steamer has arrived.

Lots of vessels coming.

A cold, stormy day yesterday.

No want of amusements this week.

County Court will convene to-day.

A rough time for shows was last night.

Portland will have two Directories this year.

Wild geese are putting in a timid appearance.

Local news scarce and generally unimportant.

Entertainment this evening at Oro Fino Theater.

The Garibaldi did not sail yesterday as was intended.

A good deal of commotion among the firemen now.

Performances at Wood's Museum every night this week.

Season for chills and fever has passed, so has cucumbers.

It is rumored that we are to have a new theater before long.

Some of the sidewalks need the services of a carpenter very badly.

Our streets are in a filthy and neglected condition. Whose fault is it?

The Grand Encampment of the Champions of the Red Cross is now in session.

The little tug Varuna is still undergoing repairs at the Willamette Iron Works.

A new floor is being laid in the office and bar-room of the Cosmopolitan Hotel.

Excitement incident on the receipt of the election news has materially subsided.

Mr. Chas. Perkins, formerly of the American Exchange Hotel, is lying dangerously ill.

Harvesting has long since passed, and now comes the seeding time among the yeomanry.

Mint juleps ain't popular now. They always call for Tom and Jerry and somthing straight.

The John L. Stephens will carry [illegible] to San Francisco a large quantity of [illegible] from Oswego.

Yesterday the city jail was being thoroughly [illegible]hed and scrubbed, and the floor treated to a coat of oil.

There will be a ball in this city on Thanksgiving Eve, and also one on the evening of Thanksgiving.

Some impatient little folks are [illegible]turely getting their stockings ready for the coming of Old Santa Claus.

Flooded streets last evening—the combined [illegible] of a heavy rain storm and an imperfect [illegible] of sewerage.

Wild ducks abound in countless numbers about the streams, and sportsmen are improving the opportunity.

Buy heavy overcoats, and firmly grasp your [illegible] handles, is the best way to get through with this sort of weather.

Christmas, with its gay festivities and cherished rememberances, is coming tardily, and the children are all jubilant.

The rain storm of the past few days has caused a suspension of work on some of the the new buildings in course of construction.

We have not had an accident, suicide or drowning case for a few days. Our faithful pen languishes for its accustomed [illegible]tion.

The San Francisco Figaro comes to hand clad in a new dress, and greatly improved in appearance. Evidences of thrift and prosperity.

Lodgers who occupy quarters adjacent to the [illegible] get [illegible]ty of the "patter of the rain upon the roof." There is more reality than poetry in the thought.

"Ye Wallamet is booming," and the farmers [illegible] are rubbing their hands complacently together; but the best of all is the wheat is rolling in.

The tug did not bring in the British ship Globe on Monday, as reported. The weather was too rough, and the vessel scudded away before the tug reached her.

Mr. Samuel E. Barr, who is so well known in Portland, recently ran on the Republican ticket for Justice of the Peace, in Pacific county, W. T., and was defeated.

Mr. Therkelsen, the contractor for the house for Vigilance Hook and Ladder Company, the corporation shed and bell tower, is crowding the work forward with all haste.

Mr. Shoudy, of Ellensburg, W. T., who has considerable interest in the Swauk mines is now in the city for the purpose of disposing of a considerable quantity of gold dust.

Knapp, Burrell & Co. are causing a large platform scale to be constructed on the north side of Ash street, between Front and First. It will be ready for use in a few days.

We met yesterday an irate gentleman without a heavy coat wending his way amidst the pelting storm. He was not as patient as the meek "man of Uz," for he got mad simply because some person had stolen his parachute. How trifling.

THE STAGE.

Charles Vivian is in San Francisco again. He has just returned from a professional tour through interior California.

Inclement weather last evening [illegible] many from attending Museum Hall, and as a consequence the attendance was quite small. However, the performance was very good, and certainly deserved more liberal patronage. Prof. Zamloch, the clever magician, made his professional appearance for the first time in Portland, and gave a number of tricks. Prof. Steel also sung a number of selections in his usual excellent style. Tony Benton and Mr. Hardinge favored the audience with several character songs. The performance closed by the introduction of ventriloquism and the Marrionettes of Dr. Haskell. This evening another performance will be given, when it is hoped a larger audience will be present.

The Figaro of the 4th inst. has the following: "Miss Adele Leighton appeared last night at Maguire's new theater, in J. H. Leroy's new play entitled "Lady Madge," founded on C. Gibbon's novel entitled "For the King." Miss Leighton acquitted herself very creditably, reading the long speeches of her part with considerable elocutionary effect. The play is of stirring interest, but it is much too talky. To-night, and after another rehearsal and some cutting, it will play more smoothly. J. A. Herne, as Sir Malcom Oliphant, and J. B. Li[illegible], [illegible] did some good acting in their respective roles." Mr. J. H. Leroy, arrived on the Stephens. Miss Leighton and Jas. A. Herne are also under engagement to Mrs. Phelps, and will both soon appear in this city.

New Attractions.—Very few are acquainted with the fact that JOS. KOHN, opposite the First National Bank, has just opened a magnificent assortment of [illegible] and Furnishing Goods. None can but admire the handsome Diagonals, the [illegible] Beaver Suits, the attractive Cassimeres and other goods now displayed at his large and elegant store. He, as well as his clerks, are accommodating, and will gratify the tastes of all who may chance to call. Mr. Kohn can please you; that is morally certain. Now is the time to purchase a full suit.

Dr. Steele's Medical Wonder has stood the test of time as the cure for rheumatic and other pains, as well as colds, coughs, cramps, &c. Taken with Wonder Pills for liver complaints, kidney disorders and impure blood. For sale everywhere.

TO THE LADIES OF PORTLAND.

MRS. W. N. WALLACE has established a first class Dressmaking Establishment in one of the new and Elegant Rooms on Stark Street, between First and Second, at which place she would respectfully solicit your patronage.

TO THE LADIES.

Miss Derry, dressmaker, begs leave to announce to the ladies that she has returned to the city and will be pleased to have them call on Thursday, Oct. 15th (opening day), at her room, No. 11, Dekum's Building, over Clark & Henderson's.

TO THE LADIES.

On First Street above Morrison,
In the windows you will see
New Styles of Ladies' Boots and Shoes,
All made by RODGERS, T.

In Ladies' work he takes the away.
Surpassed he cannot be.
In cutting and making Ladies' Shoes,
That skillful RODGERS, T.

The Polish Shoe is all the rage,
Full scolloped to the knee;
The side-laced Shoe, the Queen of Style,
Cause a rush to RODGERS, T.

So Ladies, if you want your feet
From dampness to be free,
As winter it is now at hand,
Go and see RODGERS, T.

And he will show you all the styles,
A GOOD FIT will guarantee,
Or he will give you back your coin—
Commendable RODGERS, T.

On motion, the report was adopted.

Members and visitors were introduced by the C. of H. to the Grand Commander and Encampment.

Vacancies in the Standing Committees were filled, and the committees are as follows:

Finance—J. W. Starr, E. R. Hawes, J. D. Robb.

Correspondence—J. H. Johnson, H. A. Reasoner, Sister Lizzie M. Jordan.

Appeals and Petitions—M. C. Athey, J. M. Lafferty, S. K. Raymond.

Good of the Order—R. H. Hewitt, Sisters J. D. Robb and Mary Hurley.

Constitution and By-laws—J. M. Bacon, R. H. Hewitt, J. M. Wells.

Grand Commander Johnson read his report, showing the state of the Order and what has been accomplished during the past year. He also recommended amendments of vital importance to the Constitution and workings of the Order.

The Committee on Order of Business reported that the morning session be from 9 to 12, afternoon from 2 to 5 and the evening at 7:30.

A resolution was adopted requiring the Grand Com., G. J. C. and G. Sec. to submit written reports at future sessions of this Grand Encampment.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to confer with a like committee from the I. C. R. C., with a view to uniting the two organizations.

Companions Enoch Turner, J. M. Lafferty and Rev. N. A. Starr were appointed as such committee.

The Encampment adjourned until this morning at 9 o'clock.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Fishel & Roberts, those popular and fashionable clothiers, announce to their numerous customers, patrons, friends and the public generally, that they can still be found at their old place of business, corner of Washington and First streets. They take great pleasure in announcing that they have just received the largest and [illegible] complete stock of men's and boys' clothing which can probably be found in the State. In selecting their large stock, Messrs. Fishel & Roberts have exercised great care, [illegible] and judgment, and have [illegible] suited the demands of the fall and winter trade. They have [illegible] and can supply the public at very reduced [illegible]. In connection with their store they have a large merchant tailoring department, which is under the management of a most experienced person. Satisfaction is guaranteed. Do not fail to read their advertisement, and if you require anything in their line be certain and give them a call. You will have no occasion to regret it.

Pause while you read this! The season for parties and balls has arrived and the cold dreary days and nights of winter will soon visit us. Every young man, old man and boy for that matter, likes to [illegible] a neat [illegible] appearance when attending parties, the theater, or walking about the streets. They likewise desire to be well provided against the cold blasts of snow and rain. What contributes more to the personal appearance and comfort of a gentleman, or boy, than a nice closely fitting suit of clothes, set off with a heavy warm overcoat? Why will any one be so foolish as to go without either, when BECK & WALDMAN have everything in that line. Beck & Waldman in laying in their immense fall and winter stock of Clothing have exercised great care, and selected with reference to the demands of trade. They have purchased their goods low and are determined not to be undersold. Let the public note this fact.

NEW STORE! NEW GOODS! NEW PRICES!

GRAND REOPENING of H. W. MONNASTES' New Store. A large and extensive Stock of Crockery and Glassware to be sold at reduced rates.

P. S.—Mr. Monnastes has just returned from San Francisco with a [illegible] and small [illegible] Stock of Crockery, Glassware, Plated Ware and Cutlery, which he has purchased at the lowest cash price, so he is able to sell goods in his line cheaper than ever. Call and see for yourself. No trouble to show goods. He has moved to the new brick building on First street, between Morrison and Yamhill.

ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY OFFERED

For the relief of the afflicted.

The Surgeons of the NATIONAL SURGICAL INSTITUTE will visit the Pacific Coast on the 15th day of November, and remain until the 15th day of December, 1874—one month—at their old building, No. 319 Bush street, between Kearny and Montgomery, San Francisco.

This is a chance for help which every sufferer should take advantage of. The hundreds of patients treated by them during their former visits, are all rapidly being benefited and cured. They treat successfully all cases of Paralysis; all deformities of the Face, Spine and Limbs; Diseased Joints; Diseased [illegible]; Diseases Eyes and Ears; Catarrh; [illegible]; Diseases of Females; Piles, Fistula, etc. No hopeless cases are undertaken, and it really does seem as if no cases are hopeless in the hands of these skillful surgeons.

They are preparing all the machinery necessary for the Swedish Movement Cure; Medicated Baths; Machinery to equalize the circulation, restore Paralyzed Limbs, etc.; and a much finer outfit of braces and appliances, than heretofore. All who commence treatment during this visit, and the many hundreds now under treatment, will have the advantages of all these most effectual means of cure; besides, some of the surgeons will this time remain to continue their treatment.

Remember the time and place; and come as early in the month as possible, thus getting the full benefit of their visit.

I have long known the virtues of Dr. Jayne's Expectorant, and frequently tested them on myself and family, when afflicted with Coughs or Colds. I believe it to be one of the best remedies ever discovered for these maladies.

I am about to sail in a day or two on a voyage to Europe, and should as soon think of exposing myself to the changing skies of England without an overcoat, as without a supply of Jayne's Expectorant. —Rev. Dr. Dowling, formerly Pastor of Berean Baptist Church, New York.

GRANT HEARS THE NEWS.—When the returns from Ohio and Indiana reached the [illegible] with the fact that some lunatic had put "For rent" on the White House, Grant asked Babcock what it all meant. "Notice to quit," responded briefly the High Custodian of the Public Grounds.

"I won't do it," exclaimed His Excellency; "that house is the only one large enough to hold my family and the picture of them. Where in the devil am I expected to put that picture, I'd like to know?"

"Your friends could build you as big a house in St. Louis," humbly suggested Bab.

"St. Louis!" roared the savior of his country, "that's a pretty idea. Follow Sherman to St. Louis and have him cavorting around as General of the Army and me nothing?"

"It is proposed, your Excellency, to make Sherman your successor, and restore to you the Generalship of the Army."

"Babcock," exclaimed His Excellency, turning blue, "telegraph Belknap to arm the Marine Band with navy revolvers, and Chillis and Murphy to meet me in Washington, and order Robeson to concentrate himself on Washington—I'll see who vacates!" And His Excellency drank sixteen cocktails and smoked forty cigars—that made even the Indians sneeze and shed tears.—Washington Capitol.

The Effects of Dosing.

Many persons who are wanting in natural vigor endeavor to supply the deficiency by constantly dosing themselves with drugs (often of a very pernicious nature,) which they are credulous enough to mistake for invigorants. There can be no doubt that many lives are shortened in this way. All that such persons require is a pure vegetable tonic which, like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, also possesses the regulating properties necessary to rectify those organic [illegible] which are but the result of weakness. The feeble and the nervous cannot be too earnestly advised to abandon the dangerous practice of swallowing mineral tonics, sedatives and vegetable alkaloids, which disorder the stomach and produce the most hurtful reactions, and to substitute in their place this standard strengthening cordial and corrective of the numerous [illegible] proceeding from a [illegible] of the nervous system, as well as of the stomach, liver and bowels.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 11, 1874.

FAREWELL.

The crimson sunset faded into gray,
Upon the murmurous sea the twilight fell;
The last warm breath of the delicious day
Passed with a mute farewell.

Above my head in the soft purple sky
A wild note sounded like a shrill-voiced bell;
Three gulls met, wheeled, and parted with a cry
That seemed to say "Farewell!"

I watched them; one sailed east, and one soared west,
And one went floating south; while like a knell
That mournful cry the empty sky possessed,
"Farewell, farewell, farewell!"

"Farewell!" I thought, it is the earth's one speech,
All human voices the sad chorus swell,
Though mighty love to heaven's high gate may reach,
Yet must he say, "Farewell!"

The rolling world is girdled with the sound,
Perpetually breathed from all who dwell
Upon its bosom, for no place is found
Where is not heard, "Farewell!"

"Farewell, farewell!"—from wave to wave 'tis tossed,
From wind to wind; earth has one tale to tell;
All other sounds are dulled and drowned and lost
In this one cry, "Farewell!"

A BOAT-RACE.

WHY SHOULD NOT WOMEN SWIM?—A REMINISCENCE OF LAKE GEORGE.

[From the New York Times.]

Is there any reason why women should not swim? Miss Bennett, the instructress of the free swimming baths, seems this year to have had no end of promising pupils, and at Newport and Long Branch the number of ladies able to buffet with the waves was notably on the increase. Boston is prominent in producing ladies who are admirable swimmers. Many of these ladies, in case of an accident, could not only take the best care of themselves, but they have gone as far as to instruct themselves how to save those ignorant of swimming. [illegible] occurred where a young [illegible] from an interior town in Massachusetts saved a lad of 17 from drowning [illegible] river, "accoutred as she was," and diving twice under water before [illegible] the rescue. It is worth recording that, the [illegible] having been reported to the officials of the town where the incident happened, it was proposed to have a medal presented to her. Taking the whole thing in a matter-of-fact way, the young lady refused, not wishing to attract any notoriety to herself; but the ladies of the village—her weaker sisters, in a physical sense—in lieu of a modest toilet, somewhat damaged by the immersion, gave the brave girl a handsome [illegible] and an entire new wardrobe.

We are inclined to think that we could dispense with a trifle of botany, or physics, or chemistry, providing our daughters could better breast the waves. One pleasant day this summer, [illegible] a group of ladies on the boat-slip at Lake George, the wind was blowing freshly, when suddenly a lace shawl was whisked off a pretty girl's shoulder, and carried by the breeze into the lake. Now, had it been a lily much desired by our lady-love, we might have, twenty-five years ago, waded into the water (first having assured ourselves of its depth), or, by means of a long pole, obtained the coveted flower. There was not a boat on the slip, and feeling provoked at the accident, and our want of gallantry, we watched that drowning scarf, now drifting fully 50 yards away from us. "It's really dreadful," said the fair owner of the lace, "there goes the horrid thing. It is sadly out of taste to mention what it cost, but that stupid scarf cost dear me! all my savings of two months to purchase at Stewart's. Provoking thing! I am going to have a good cry over it. There now," and the speaker did indulge in a few genuine tears. "It was $75," she cried, between her [illegible].

"Was that all?" said another lady in a most unsympathetic way. "I declare I thought it was cotton lace."

"That is a remark quite uncalled for," replied the owner of the shawl, "and is adding insult to injury. There."

"I only did it, dear, to teach you to use a pin or something to hold the scarf with, and not to wear expensive lace just after breakfast. But it's all right."

"What is all right, Madam?" rather sharply retorted the aggrieved one, considerably nettled.

"It is all right, for I am going to get your shawl for you, since nobody else will," and here the speaker looked at us. "Oh, you are excused; men of a certain age are not expected to be heroic," and saying this, before we could stop her, she had gone down the slippery boat-steps, had waded up to her waist, and now was out of her depth, and was swimming as lustily as a Sandwich Island girl toward the shawl. Presently she was up to it, when she caught it, and with a woman's coquetry, swimming with one hand, with the other had converted the lace into a turban, which she wound round her head. "Here is a practical nineteenth century mermaid for you," she cried out, laughing, as she came in hand over hand. In a moment she stood dripping on the slip. "Now, sir, would you be good enough to go to the hotel and send me my maid? and here is your scarf, my dear young lady; it is not much hurt; you will spread it out evenly and put it between folds of blotting paper, with a weight on it; and of course you will kiss me if you don't mind being wet—for having been your Newfoundland, you know. It was a real frolic! Catch cold? not a bit of it. Learned the noble art of natation when I was 8 years old. It is a pretty shawl, and such a rich, flowing pattern, and real lace; of course I knew that all the time, for if it had been cotton or imitation I give you my word I shouldn't have tried to rescue it. You see"—this was addressed to me—"a woman swims at first, with all her clothes on, lighter than a man, but after awhile it's rather heavy work. But I really think had I married a Turk, and my jealous lord had put me in a sack into the Bosphorus, he could not have drowned me. By the way, ladies, I should not like you to mention it—I am very unhappy. I am married to a man, fate has so ordained it, who can't run or swim, or play cricket or shoot, except [illegible] his natural protector, and he knows it. But I am chattering here. Pray now run to the house and send my servant." On that we hurried to the hotel, and that important functionary, the lady's maid, soon [illegible] on her [illegible].

"My mission on this earth," said the lady to us that evening, "is to induce women to improve themselves by [illegible] of physical culture. Why did not Canon Kingsley lecture on it when he was here, for no one has written so [illegible] on the subject? Women's rights movements fail signally in this particular. How are women who are always whining and ailing to take any higher position in the human family? I tell you, much as we may deprecate materialistic ideas, and hold aloft the immaterial,—brain over body,—these are too often trumps. Now to the case in point. I should by no means have gone overboard after that young lady's shawl if I had not been in my morning dress. That, you say, is a non sequitur, but our actions are mostly relative. A precious scolding I received in lieu of a reward from my lord and [illegible], and perhaps I deserved it. But don't you think if more of the young women could swim, or even walk [illegible], or [illegible] bows and arrows, or skate more, they would be better off? Don't you read now a [illegible] many books written by intelligent women which have sick-headache and dyspepsia sticking out in every line? Of course, now it is too late to cure them. But, suppose in early life, if only two energetic male friends, her brothers, had tucked that intellectual girl under their arms, and clapped on her feet a pair of thick-soled shoes, and taken her a spin of three or four miles a day over the fields—don't you fancy that young person would have been wonderfully improved physically and m[illegible]lly?"

"Of course we do," we replied.

"Are you not rather stronger in the theory than in the practice?" the lady rather maliciously inquired. "You write about these matters occasionally, I suppose; but do you carry them out in regard to your daughters?"

"We can criticise a three-legged stool," we replied, "but, if our life depended on it, could not make one."

"I will tell what I will do. To-morrow morning I will wager you just a pair of gloves that I can take my husband in a boat, and you may take any lady you please, not under 110 pounds, and I will row you half a mile into the lake."

How could we decline the wager? That evening, however, we telegraphed to New York for a pair of 6¼ gloves. We came in a glorious second. We might have won had our young lady coxswain trimmed boat, but she insisted on seeing the reflection of the clouds in the lake, assuring us it was a nuance she was anxious to fix in her mind, in case a dress-pattern of similar hue was ever put before her. We were beaten many boat's lengths. Our competitor had every advantage. The lady's dead weight—her husband—sat motionless in the stern reading a book. He had certainly been well [illegible].

Latest Liverpool advices denote a quiet market. Pacific coast wheat ranged from 9s 10d@10s 4d for average, and 10s 4d @10s 10d for club, per cental. The London market is quoted at 44s 6d per quarter for average quality just shipped, and 49s per quarter for average nearly due at Queenstown.

The appearance of matters in trade and financial circles to-day was not one of much encouragement, though no good cause is shown why business men should be particularly disheartened. The continuance of the demand from grain and produce buyers is noted with but little if any relaxation in the readiness with which their inquiry is met. The dull times, of which so much complaint is made, are not so much owing to any actual scarcity of money as to a want of trade to give the capital of the country free and active circulation, the business of buying and shipping wheat and flour being about the only commodities in which there has been a continued lively movement during the fall. The aggregate volume of trade, however, has been transacted on a more conservative basis than before, and in its net results is not likely to be much below the average.

As the season approaches for the meeting of the Congress both practical business men and theorists begin to bring forward plans to remedy the financial results which now exist. A correspondent of one of the New York dailies, who believes the Government and not the banks should have whatever benefit accrues from the use of circulating notes, advocates the withdrawal of the national bank circulation on the ground that the right of the [illegible] to reserve to itself the exclusive power of [illegible] metallic money applies with exactly the same force to the issue of paper money. This principle being conceded the granting of the power, without compensation to a company of private stockholders, is in the nature of a feudal monopoly. However, to carry out this plan it is proposed to create a "Currency Department" wholly independent of the Treasury, and free from political influences of a party character, to which shall be confided the duty of supplying a paper circulation having a "uniform permanent standard of value." The writer then expresses himself as in favor of what is called the inconvertible 3.65 bond, to be [illegible] in sums of not less than $100, which will no doubt be a means of collecting many millions of cheap capital, a large part of which can be used for paying off the higher interest-bearing debt, and it does what is in addition claimed for the plan, namely, acts as a joint regulator with gold in maintaining "[illegible] of circulation," or "elasticity," as [illegible], so much the better. But the Currency Department should likewise be authorized to issue thirty-day certificates of deposit, for smaller sums than $100—say, as low as $20 or even $10—so as to make it and all its branches and agencies, like the British post-office, a grand people's savings bank. These certificates should bear the same rate of interest as the demand bonds. The two together would afford, in a few [illegible], the fund to go a great way towards extinguishing the whole of the higher [illegible].

Wheat and Freights in California.

From the Commercial Herald of the 5th inst. we cull the following in reference to the condition of the grain and freight markets of San Francisco:

The freight market is demoralized by various complications heretofore mentioned, growing out of the failure of E. E. Morgan's Sons. We have others to add to it by the failure of a Glasgow firm, thereby throwing several additional ships on the market that were chartered in Scotland to load here at high figures. Freights to Liverpool direct have now fallen [illegible] 7s 6d@£2 10s, with very little new business offering at the decline.

There is a total of thirty-six vessels, with an aggregate tonnage of over 40,000 tons, in that port at this time [illegible] cargoes. The same paper concerning wheat says:

Since the heavy rains of October, nearly three inches having fallen upon an average throughout the State, farmers have shown a greater disposition to sell their grain at current rates; consequently the receipts at tide-water have largely increased. The disastrous failure of the Grangers' agent has in a measure disgusted the Patrons of Husbandry, and they have manifested a willingness to sell their crops at current market rates. The so-called "Grain King" visited the Salinas valley about ten days since, and purchased some 5,000 tons of wheat at $1 40. A portion of this grain is to be delivered at Monterey, alongside of the ship H. L. Richardson, now loading at that port for Liverpool direct. Other considerable purchases of wheat have been concluded in the interior at a price equivalent to $1 50, delivered here. As a result, we hope from this time to see ships loaded with dispatch. One or more cargoes of choice wheat have been closed during the week at $1 60. This, however, is an extreme rate, for wheat at $1 55, with freights at 50s and sterling exchange at 49½d, is equivalent to about 48s ℘ quarter, cost and freight to Liverpool; but it should be remembered that freights have fallen here to 47s 6d, which will account for the sale at $1 60. The ship Twilight has been cleared by the State Grange for Liverpool with 37,282 ctls., freight £3. This we believe is the only low priced ship chartered by the Order.

The River—Wheat.

It is anticipated that the amount of produce from the large scope of country which finds its outlet by the Wallamet river, will add materially to transactions to occur in our market from this forward. Nearly all the available boating facilities of the several companies navigating the stream in question, will at once be brought into service, and the present indications are that no further impediment to the running of their boats will be met this season. Buyers here are not unaware of the fact that those who ship by boats can sell cheaper than those who transport by rail, and hence heretofore they have bought only as [illegible] compelled them and their offers could not be taken as an indication of their opinion as to the future of the market. Now that the opening of the river puts all the surplus grain of the country in reach of the market, all those buyers who believe the demand will in[illegible] will be pur[illegible] above immediate wants, and those who anticipate a decline [illegible] cautiously.

At this writing we see but little indications of change in the market, from the above or other causes. Foreign advices during the past few days exhibit no fluctuations, while telegrams from San Francisco indicate that market as rather weaker. Receipts here continue full by rail and river. The amount in store here is quite large, and vessels now in the berth are filling up rapidly, an average of about one each day having gone down the river the past week. In short, the wheat trade is active, though the price paid producers, and the margin for shippers, even with the reduction in freights, are less than would be conducive to a full realization of our hope for the country.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship California, from Sitka and way ports, arrived this morning a few days over due, having been detained on the Sound by rough weather and other causes.

The ship City of Dublin, loading with flour by the Salem Milling Co., went down the river this forenoon.

The bark Harrington is receiving cargo at Flanders' wharf.

The ship [illegible] is [illegible] ballast at Allen & Lewis' wharf, and will begin to load grain for Europe in a few days.

The British bark Royal Alfred sailed from Melbourne, Australia, September 7th, for this port.

The schooner Hera sailed from San Francisco for this port November 1st.

The bark Edward James cleared at San Francisco for this port on the 4th inst.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

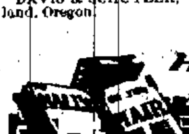
DAVIS & SCHUYLER, Wholesale Agents, Portland, Oregon.



This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching, and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow [illegible] and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

Buckingham's Dye,

FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown, or black at discretion. It is easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.
